

Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Communiqué

Venezuela condemns the military aggression of the United States against Iran and demands the immediate cessation of hostilities.

The Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela firmly and categorically condemns the bombing carried out by the United States Army, at the request of the State of Israel, against nuclear facilities in the Islamic Republic of Iran, including the Fordow, Natanz and Isfahan complexes.

This attack constitutes an illegal, unjustifiable and extremely dangerous act of aggression that flagrantly violates the Charter of the United Nations Charter, international law and the most basic principles of respect for the sovereignty of States.

Bombing nuclear facilities, with all the risks it entails for human life and the environmental balance of the region, is an irresponsible escalation that could unleash consequences of incalculable proportions for global stability. It is a direct threat to international peace.

We reaffirm our solidarity with the Iranian people and our commitment to peace, sovereignty and the defense of international law as the only path to coexistence amongst nations.
